Mr. O. W. Linder has been very sick at the home of his brother, Dr. J. L. Linder.
Don't forget that McVay & Choute have any and everything in the line of summer goods.
A son of Mr. John Miller, of Montgomery county, was in town last week.
Col. Ramsey's examination will come off next Thursday and Friday with exhibition at night.
There lives a boy in Jackson's district 16 years old, who weigh 158 pounds and wears No. 11's.
We are under obligation to Mr. T. B. Piqua for several lots of fine peaches and apples recently.
Judge Wolfe has improved the appearance of his already handsome place by some new plank fencing.
TURNIP SEED!
Fresh turnip seed—this year's crop—for sale at J. W. Peacock & Co's.
Mr. John Southard was married to Miss Nannie Hudson on last Thursday evening by E. J. Tarpley, J. P.
Judge Haynes and Mr. I. T. Keen took a trip to Sandersville last week. They report crops along the road as burnt up.
One of Dr. Harrison's little sons came near getting drowned a few days ago while in bathing at the river.
The ferryman at the Dublin ferry says the river was lower last week than it has been since 1839—just 40 years.
Mr. Strubing, of Toombsboro, was in town a few days ago. It is said he contemplates removing to Dublin. So note it!
The last two weeks have been so dry and dull that we have hardly been able to collect as many locals as we usually get up in one week.
Howard & Co. are carrying a fine stock of the best brandies, &c., with ice lemonade that will make you forget the hot weather for a while at least.
Judge Wolfe went to Macon last week after more goods. If you can not now find something to your taste at his store, you are fastidious indeed.
Only a few watermelons have been put on our market this season; but as the price ranges high, we believe the supply is rather in excess of the demand.
Farmers in some portions of the county say that their corn crops have been absolutely ruined by the long drouth—that they will not make any corn at all.
The team of Messrs. R. J. Hightower & Son while crossing the river last Tuesday loaded with goods from No. 14, got partly out of the flat into the river and came near being lost.
For Rent.
A room suitable for a shoemaker's business in the Southeast corner of the Post building can be rented very low.—Apply at this office. 1c.

J. L. CURT.
July 4, 1879.
Rev. J. D. Anthony will preach the funeral sermon of Emma V. E. Pierce, step-daughter of W. H. H. Bush and daughter of Leah Bush, at Mason's Bridge, Johnson county, the first Sabbath in August next at 11 o'clock, a. m.
Mr. J. T. Linder, who left this county in January and removed to near Warthen's, Washington county, was in town a few days ago. He tells us he expects to return to Laurens shortly to remain, which is as it should be.
Five Peaches.
Mr. S. M. Jones will please accept our thanks for the finest cluster of peaches ever seen in Dublin. A single stem nine inches long contained seven peaches which weighed four pounds, each peach a beauty in itself.
Mr. H. Hughes, of Atlanta, formerly of this county and still a large property owner here, was in town a few days ago. He said he was solid against transferring this county to the Middle Circuit, and would use his influence accordingly if necessary.
A Stricken Family.
Mr. Haydon Lee, living two miles West of Dublin is having a sad experience with bilious fever. On last Thursday a friend visiting them found Mr. Lee, his wife and four children all delirious with fever at the same time. On Friday night his little girl George died. On Saturday Mr. Lee was having with brain fever. They are now better; but still their condition is one of sadness.
Be Vigilant.
The price of success against the schemes of those who would thwart the will of the people is sleepless vigilance. The question of transferring Laurens to the Middle Circuit for the present is settled—thoroughly settled. But if we should happen to send a man to the legislature at the next election who could be manipulated, good-bye Laurens county. But this thing the people must watch.
$500.00 Reward.
In view of the fact that I am the Executor of the estate of John Perry, Sr., deceased, from which estate it was decided after legal investigation, that Ann Perry and Susan Perry took four thousand dollars and for which they were imprisoned under bail and Trover until they should produce the same. I will therefore pay a reward of five hundred dollars for the apprehension of the parties, or one or more of them, with evidence to convict the same that released said woman from jail last Wednesday night.
EDWARD PERRY.
June 15th, 1879.
Scolded to Death.
On the morning of the 9th inst. little David, child of Mr. J. A. McLendon, two years and four months old, while playing around a tub of hot water which was being used for scalding the house, fell across and partly into the tub. His front was badly scalded from his chin to his feet. He survived in intense agony till midnight when his little spirit, released from suffering, soared away to join his sainted mother in Paradise.
Maj. White's Letter.
Maj. White's letter, printed in another column, asks for information which we are not sure we are sufficiently posted to give. As we have understood it, the examinations referred to have always been competitive in Mr. Blount's district. The trouble arises from the fact that our representative has not sufficiently advertised them in our county. These are merely our impressions. A word on the subject from Mr. Blount would be read with interest by his numerous friends in this county.
The Drouth.
It is verily distressing to hear farmers from many portions of our county talk of the condition of their crops. Many of them have had no rain for more than eight weeks, their corn is as good as dead, and they declare they will make nothing. The cotton crop is their only hope, and a sullen sky of copper gives but little reason to believe that cotton will not share the fate of corn. Again some of our farmers have suffered but little, and a few have not wanted for rain a single day. Such partiality in the falling of the rains has never been known before in this community.

J. G. Wright, Esq., of Cochran, was in town Monday.
We notice Master Jas. Mason on our streets again fresh from Oxford.
Mrs. Mary McLendon of Eastman is in town.
Mr. Columbus Keen and a young Mr. Harrison, of Eastman, were on a visit to Dublin a few days ago.
Mr. Artie Duncan took a trip to Eastman a day or two ago.
Rev. W. H. H. Bush of Johnson county was in town Monday.
We learn that quite a severe wind and hail storm passed through the vicinity of the Tucker old mill about eight miles above town last Sunday evening. No particulars.
Snake-Bit.
On last Friday Mr. Elisha Wilkes' little son, Lucien was bitten by a ground rattle snake. He was doing well on Sunday.
Scalded.
On last Saturday Mr. John Curry's baby, about a year old, was scalded by falling into a tub of hot water. It is hardly expected to live; though it was alive on Monday.
Go to Jones' or J. W. Peacock & Co., and buy one of those Safety Lamps. Superior to any lamp in the market. If dropped or overturned, will extinguish itself before reaching the floor. Can't smoke, don't flicker, light brilliant, designed to supersede all others. Extinguished by touching a spring, and gives a light equal to that of the $8 student's lamp. Cheap as any other lamp. Old lamp bowls may be refitted with the improved burners, wicks and chimneys. Call and examine for yourself. W. B. JONES & CO., AND J. W. PEACOCK & CO., sole agents for Laurens and Johnson counties. 1872-73
STORM IN WRIGHTSVILLE.
Masonic Hall Blown Down.
On Sunday evening between 4 and 5 o'clock there came up a thunder cloud, which in a little while burst in a furious wind-storm, leveling fences and shude trees all over the town. A portion of the roof of W. B. Snell's smoke house was blown away. The Masonic Hall was blown down. Information from the surrounding country reveals the fact that the storm was confined entirely to Wrightsville. No harm was done outside the corporate limits.
LATER—Before going to press we learn that the wind was very severe in the vicinity of Hon. R. J. Hightower's and that lower down the Ochopee, not a house was left standing on the place of Mr. Simon Williams.
How to Raise Hogs.
An ounce of practical, is worth a pound of theoretical wisdom, especially to the farmer, who justly looks with suspicion on the fine-spun methods of getting rich on paper. So we think the following facts should arrest the attention of that class of farmers who complain so much about the precarious practice of pork raising in this cholera-afflicted region. Mr. W. J. Fordham, a farmer of this county, who always has meat, lard and corn for sale, who raises his own flour, and who consequently is out of debt and in a prosperous way generally, tells us that he has never had a case of cholera on his place and what is fully as much to the point, has never lost but one hog by theft. How does he manage? His rule is simple. He gives his hogs an occasional dose of arsenic. This makes his hogs thrive and keeps off thieves at the same time. It takes about a tablespoonful of arsenic mixed with some wet meal to every five hogs, three times a week for one week. He then leaves off for a month or so and repeats. Of course he stops giving the poison several months before slaughtering time. Otherwise there might be a funeral. Mr. F. thinks nothing so good as arsenic to start off a poor hog and nothing so good and so cheap to make one in a thriving condition thrive faster.
It Is Better.
Cleveland Herald, rep.
The twenty years war between Senator Hill and the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens is at last at an end. For nearly a quarter of a century those fiery statesmen have been scowling and glaring at each other about a quarrel they had and a challenge to mortal combat which followed it, and which was declined with thanks by Senator Hill. Surely it is better that venerable statesmen should dwell together in unity than that they should conduct themselves like aged and revengeful toments.
